

I have been an XM radio subscriber now for almost a year. We travel extensively and have been so pleased with XM radio that we have it in both of our vehicles. The XM Instant traffic and weather stations have been of tremendous help to us in our travels. We have been able to escape a hurricane and two other severe storms because of this offering by XM radio.

We have also found the traffic reports to be extremely useful when traveling. On several occasions we have tuned in to the station of the next major city on our journey and been able to avoid major delays. We travel frequently to the Baltimore, MD and Washington, DC areas. These areas are extremely congested and since we are not locals we have been virtually dependent on these channels to help us avoid problems.

Prior to XM having this service we would attempt to tune in to local stations for traffic and weather updates. Waiting through their play schedule and commercials was a waste of time. Having a channel that I can depend on to be dedicated to these services enhances our travel experiences. This is an extremely valuable service to myself and my family. I would not trade it for the world!
